

Local Service Provider Directory

Autism Support, Mental Health & Therapeutic Services.....pages 2 -- 49

Recreational, Educational & Other Community Services .....pages 50 -- 64

This directory provides basic information on local agencies that provide services to individuals and families living with an Autism Spectrum Disorder. We have tried to compile the most comprehensive data for each agency. As service providers grow and change constantly we suggest you check the resource directory on the Autism York website for the most up to date information.

Autism York is a non-profit group of parents of individuals on the autism spectrum as well as interested professionals and volunteers supporting the community! Autism York sponsors many events and programs at low or no cost to families living with Autism Spectrum Disorder in York and surrounding counties.

Monthly meetings, speaker events, social outings, lending library, resource directory, community, outreach programs, and support for new families are all made possible through tax deductible donations to Autism York. 100% of all funds raised and donated go directly into our programs to support families.

Feel free to make extra copies of this Directory or download it from our website at www.autismyork.org.

Autism York is a charitable 501(c) (3) organization as provided by Internal Revenue Service requirements.

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Social Skills Groups
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Summer Camps

Aaron's Acres provides year-round, recreational programs to children, ages 5-21 with special needs, including those on the Autism Spectrum. The focus of all of our programs is on socialization and communication skills. Through a variety of activities (horseback riding, music therapy, swimming, and group games), our professional staff as well as our undergraduate students (studying social work, special education, and occupational therapy) assist and support the children on an individual basis. We have 1-1 or 1-2 staff to child ratio which allows for immediate and appropriate intervention for each child. We have a group called the A-Team which is comprised of teenagers (ages 13-17) who have a diagnosis of Aspergers. In this group, they work on their social skills while participating in teenage-like activities in the community (i.e. bowling, movies, etc.). The A-Team meets during the school year as well as during the summer.

Soon after its parent company, Leg Up Farm, opened, the need for services beyond the pediatric and educational settings was realized. Out of that need, the idea for Able-Services was born. Located at the former Shiloh Nurseries site at 3100 North George Street, Able Services is licensed as an adult training facility by the PA Department of Human Services, operating Monday through Friday from 9:00am to 3:30pm. Continuing in the fine tradition of Leg up Farm, Able-Services provides a culture of caring and welcoming to the program participants. They explore skill areas such as pre-vocational training, activities of daily living, social skills, communication, leisure/fitness/recreation, nutrition and health, community participation, and self-advocacy.

Located at: York, PA

Serves: all ages

Contact for more info: Angie Kot (717) 793-1959 angie@FaceValue.us

Autism at Face Value believes kids want and need heroes like themselves. We've won international literary awards for our best-selling comic book - Face Value Comics. We've distilled autism awareness and acceptance using a comic book so more readers can understand the condition.

In addition to highlighting an important social skill of facial feature recognition in our books, we also offer:

- On-going publication of the comics, as seen on the NBC Nightly News, as well as autism-friendly action figures and other toys;
- Individualized Education Plan (IEP) advice to families with school-aged children with autism without creating an adversarial environment in school;
- Safe sexual health workshops, teaching young adults about their self-care and ways to prevent (sexual) victimization, as part of a nationally-award grant opportunity;
- Individual and group appointments/workshops to discuss your journey with autism, as advocates also living with autism, to help families better understand the diagnosis and future options for school, employment, housing, and long-term care;
- Professional meetings with schools and workplaces as subject-matter experts to share non-verbal autistic intelligence and communication styles.

The Adult Autism Waiver (AAW) is a 1915(c) HCBS Medicaid waiver designed to provide long-term services and supports for community living, tailored to the specific needs of adults age 21 or older with an ASD. Additionally, the Adult Autism Waiver is available statewide, and provides participants with a choice of an enrolled provider for each service.

The Adult Community Autism Program (ACAP) is not a waiver. It is a managed care program that is an integrated model of care reflecting trends being seen in service delivery systems. ACAP is currently available in a limited number of counties, with services provided by one primary provider, and their network of providers, including primary care physicians and dentists. It provides physician, behavioral, and community services through an integrated approach to create a coordinated system of supports. It is currently available in Dauphin, Lancaster, Cumberland and Chester counties.

The Autism Services, Education Resources & Training Collaborative (ASERT) is a unique public and private partnership between BAS and PA universities, hospitals/medical centers and private community providers. It is a key component of the Bureau's strategy for supporting individuals with autism and their families throughout the Commonwealth. The ASERT Resource Center has qualified staff that can guide individuals and families in Pennsylvania to regional resources and help them navigate the service delivery system.

The BAS Virtual Training & Resource Center (VTC) is a free, comprehensive on-line resource center designed to enable Adult Autism Waiver providers and Behavior Specialist License applicants to easily access recorded trainings, documents, and other resources in one convenient location. Individuals and families interested in resources and training opportunities should connect with ASERT.

Families cannot receive the evaluation unless their child qualifies for one of our research projects. Most studies reimburse families for their time and transportation and do not have an out-of-pocket cost. Some studies do go through insurance.

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Educational/Training Programs	Some educational events are free. Others require payment by check, cash, or money order.

The Center for Autism Research (CAR) is a collaborative effort between The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and the University of Pennsylvania. CAR's goals are to identify the causes of autism spectrum disorders (ASD) and develop effective treatments. CAR conducts research studies for infants at risk for being diagnosed with ASD (due to having a sibling already diagnosed) as well as toddlers, school-aged children, and adults on the autism spectrum. Families receive comprehensive assessment reports and are paid for their time and travel costs. Typically developing children and adults are also needed for comparison purposes.

Cognitive Health Solutions, LLC is a practice dedicated to promoting cognitive and behavioral health for children, adolescents, and adults. Dr. Ray W. Christner started CHS in 2009 as a growth of his part-time private practice. CHS continually strives to provide well-studied and evidenced-based intervention and evaluation approaches in psychology, education, and mental health to consumers of our practice. Our assessment and evaluation services follow a neurocognitive process-oriented approach, which integrates quantitative test data, qualitative behavior observations, background information, and current research in psychology and neuroscience. Our intervention services use a cognitive-behavior therapy (CBT) approach, which is a research-based psychotherapy that has been shown to be effective with a number of mental health conditions, including depression, anxiety, anger, etc. In addition to the clinical services, we offer professional development opportunities to mental health and educational professionals. The goal of the continuing education component at CHS is to provide professionals the most current research-based information on intervention, assessment, and psychotherapy.

Equine Assisted Learning utilizing the Horse Boy Method. This equine therapy program offers weekly sessions (known as 'Play Dates') for the entire family focusing on the following 6 factors:

- (1) A safe ENVIRONMENT is created in which no one judges the child or family.
- (2) SENSORY ISSUES are addressed – beginning on the ground and progressing body to body on the horse.
- (3) BACK-RIDING – riding double – the therapist sitting behind the child becomes a voice in the ear. The movement of the horses allows for release of oxytocin helping to stimulate learning receptors – opening the door to communicating with the child.
- (4) PERSPECTIVE – work on horseback is an interactive way to teach perspective.
- (5) ACADEMICS – Once the child has started to communicate, the teaching of academic skills can begin.
- (6) SELF-ADVOCACY – If there is no self-compassion, the parent faces constant burn out.

Jessica & Friends Community is a non-profit organization offering residential services, training in daily living skills, social services, and an adult day program to individuals with autism and intellectual disabilities. Their mission is to provide faith-based support and services for individuals with autism and intellectual disabilities.

The Residential Service provides homes for adults with intellectual disabilities within a faith-based environment. The Community Program provides Respite Service and Home and Community Habilitation Service to families who care for an intellectually disabled individual or an individual with autism.

The Parent Support Group brings parents together to pray, encourage, and support one another—realizing and understanding the rigors of providing daily care for a family member with an intellectual disability. It is the goal of the Parent Support Group to connect families so they can minister to one another while becoming a unified and supportive group. They also provide resources and education on issues pertaining to the needs of their special family member. They typically meet four times a year.

Pathway Services is a faith-based, community-integrated, day program providing lifelong learning opportunities for autistic and intellectually disabled individuals, 18 years of age and older. Two pathway day programs are available; one in York located at 218 dew Drop Rd. York, PA 17402 (717) 747-9000 and one in Hanover located at 1157 Eichelberger Street Hanover, PA 17331 (717) 969-2981.

We take a comprehensive approach to educating children. We work closely with families, school districts, and other professionals in the children's lives to create individualized programs to meet their needs. We offer several related educational services within our schools including Applied Behavioral Analysis Behavioral Consultation, Speech Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Behavior Support, Counseling, and Crisis Intervention. We are committed to working closely with all members of a child's IEP team. Collaboration starts from the moment the student is being considered for placement with New Story and continues until the child has developed the skills needed to return to his or her home school.

Philhaven's Center for Autism and Developmental Disabilities (CADD) is committed to forming supportive relationships with families in Central Pennsylvania who are coping with the challenges of autism spectrum disorders and/or intellectual disabilities. Improving the health of such individuals requires an early and accurate diagnosis using a multidisciplinary approach, ongoing care, advocacy, and collaboration with other providers. We know that receiving an accurate diagnosis and obtaining multiple services can be very challenging. That's why we're here to work with families and offer a growing range of services in one location.

We have assembled a multidisciplinary team of developmental specialists committed to addressing these concerns and supporting individuals and their families from infancy through adulthood. The services we offer include multidisciplinary evaluation, psychiatric evaluation and medication management, individual and family therapy, behavioral consultations by a board certified behavioral analyst, psychological testing, social skills group, behavioral health rehabilitative services, bio-behavioral services, and sleep consultations.

The day care is open to children ages 12 months to 5 years and is one of the few day care centers based on an 'inclusional setting,' a term which refers to expanding what once was a program exclusively designed for children with special needs to include children of all abilities. By playing together, children can learn to understand, accept and value human diversity.

S.T.A.R.S. Preschool is open to all children ages 3-5, and is one of only a few preschools based on 'reverse-mainstreaming,' a term which refers to expanding what once was a program exclusively designed for children with special needs to include all children. S.T.A.R.S. year-round program promotes continuing progress to reach educational and developmental milestones. The experienced staff at S.T.A.R.S. Preschool includes certified teachers and administrators, a licensed social worker, qualified assistants and community volunteers.

This is an on-site specialized ASD treatment program focusing on the main domains of development: play skills, socialization skills, communication skills, and safety and self-help skills. Community outings to help generalize skills in a natural setting are offered on a regular basis.

Program runs throughout the year – after school during the school year and during the day in the summer. There is also a daytime social skills group that meets a few times a week for children that are homeschooled.

Children are placed in smaller groups based on age and skill level. Children and adolescents must have a diagnosis of an Autism Spectrum Disorder and be able to function in a group therapy setting.

Home Supports

Typical Life Corporation (TLC) is a private, not for profit, charitable organization, founded in 1999. TLC provides individuals the supports, services and opportunities to live a normal life in the community. Services are provided through licensed group homes, home and community habilitation, in-home support services, and two adult training day programs. TLC assists individuals to become active, involved members of their community. TLC provides support so that individuals can practice the faith of their choice as well as providing a weekly Bible study session on Thursday evenings.

TLC maintains licensed homes serving 1-3 people in suburban neighborhoods. Residents are taught skills of daily living and social skills, as well as providing activities in their community. The goal is to teach the individuals to become as independent as possible.

Images Health Center is the only licensed health and fitness day program in the country for individuals with intellectual disabilities who participate in stretching, circuit training, cardio, and aerobics in an environment fully supervised by a trained staff. The Abby Factor is an adult day program for individuals with intellectual disabilities. Individuals participate in small group trainings designed to teach new, and build upon existing skills that lend themselves to obtaining supported employment in the community, increasing their cognitive skills as well as maintaining/improving their overall health and fitness.

Through Home and Community Habilitation (HCH), individuals learn, maintain or improve skills through their participation in a variety of everyday life activities. Individuals learn to live more independently at home or with their families and to be more participatory in community life.

It assists residents by ensuring that all emergency response units (fire, police, EMA, etc.) have access to the same information about each person -- decreasing confusion during an emergency situation and safety risks to both responders and residents in emergency situations. The system is entirely voluntary -- elected officials in each municipality determine whether they want to participate, and residents signing up for the service must also sign a form. See website for more details.
